NO. 35.

Revival Closed.

The revival at the Methodist church was concluded Tuesday night and Bro. Hargett, who did the preaching, started yesterday morning for his home in Iowa. Bro. Hargett is a most earnest speaker, and his labors, both here and at Kimbrell where he also held a meeting with Pastor J. O. Crawford, were attended by success.

A Popular Teacher.

Miss Mayme Groves, who was elected teacher in the primary room of the city school, has resigned that position and accepted the first assistant place in the graded school at Warsaw with an increased salary. Miss Mayme holds a State certificate and is a very fine teacher.

Eclipse of the Sun.

The partial eclipse of the sun was observed here yesterday by many persons. The sun was a little over one-half obscured, and the view was fine as it was to be seen at sunrise and the light clouds were of no serious hindrance.

The L. & E. Extension.

A railroad movement of great importance to Southeastern Kentucky is the proposed extension of the Lexington and Eastern from Jackson, Breathitt county, the present terminus, to Hazard, Perry county, and thence to the Pound Gap region, near the Virginia line. A corps of surveyors have been at work on this extension for several days, and it is understood contracts have been let for the construction of thirty-five miles of the total extension proposed of sixty five miles. For some time such an extension has been considered, and now that it is an assured fact, renewed attention has been attracted to several of the more remote mountain counties, richer in deposits of coal even than the more favorably situated counties with railroad connections.

In the counties of Letcher, Perry, Leslie and Clay, several large companies from the East have had representatives during the past few years, and immense sums have been expended in acquiring territory and testing coal deposits. Eight or twelve different veins have been investigated, and coal has been found as high as twelve feet in thickness.

One Piece of Good Road.

The two miles of road between this city and the river ford at Typton's have been nicely graded by the use of the road machine, until it is now in almost the finest condition possible for dirt roads. This action on the part of the proper authorities is very commendable and it is hoped that the movement will become more popular with all until every road in the county is put in the same good condition.

A New Road.

The new road from Waltersville to a point on Black Creek above the high water mark is being opened and will be ready for travel in a few days. The opening of this road reflects much credit on the officials who are responsible for this much needed improvement. It will now enable travel to go from here up Black Creek, the nearest way, to Mt. Sterling regardless of rain and high water.

Badly Shocked by Lightning.

The residence of Jeff McKinney on Hardwick's Creek was struck by lightning Friday morning. Mrs. McKinney received a fearful shock which came near proving fatal. The bolt struck the kitchen flue and run down the stove pipe, killing a pig, dog and cat which lay under the floor directly under the stove. Mrs. McKinney was about ten feet from the stove. Had she been much nearer the result would have probably been fatal.

A New Machine.

W. T. Webb, our wide-a-wake jeweler and optician, has recently installed one of Clement's combined lathe and attachments. With this machine all kinds of the most delicate and complicated watchmaking and repairing can be executed by Mr. Webb with the greatest precision.

The Apple Crop.

The apple crop is very abundant in this section this year, and as a natural consequence they are also very cheap. Still enough of this fruit is barely raised in this county for home consumption during the apple season, when in reality our county should raise enough of this valuable fruit to supply the home demand for both summer and winter and at the same time have a large surplus to ship.

Death of Mrs. Banahan.

Mrs. Banahan, daughter of J. A. Roberts, died at her home in Lexington, and will be brought to Argyle to day for burial. Mrs. Banahan when a girl attended school in this city, was well liked by all her school mates, many of whom will attend the funeral to day.
